Zoning

Existing Character

The Hetherton office district is at the eastern edge of downtown adjacent to Highway 101. The district has a wide variety of uses from the Whistlestop Senior Center and the Transportation Center to small and medium size offices and stores. An unused railroad right-of-way planned as a future transitway bisects the district, and there are a number of underutilized lots.

Allowed Use

The Hetherton office district is expected to become a major office area because of its proximity to the Transportation Center, Fourth Street retail and services, and the visibility from the access to Highway 101. New large-scale office development is encouraged in order to strengthen downtown's standing as a business and financial center. On the ground floor, office, business-support retail, general retail for parcels that front on Fourth Street, personal service uses and restaurants are encouraged. Parking structures are allowed, and should have commercial uses and restaurants on the ground floor. Limits on shops protect Fourth Street retail businesses. Residential and live/work is permitted on the upper floors on Fourth Street, and on the ground floor and above elsewhere.

Design Intent

The Hetherton office district is intended to become an elegant entryway into downtown. Development will be large-scale with on-site parking, and should include landmark design elements supportive of the district's gateway role. Buildings will typically range from three (3) to five (5) stories with upper stories stepped back. Plazas, public art and ground floor retail are encouraged along Fourth Street between Hetherton and Fourth Street.
